

Report of the Institutional Progress on Removing Stipulations for California State University, Monterey Bay

Professional Services Division

June 4, 2008

Overview

This item is a follow-up of the accreditation visit with California State University, Monterey Bay that was conducted November 11-15, 2006. This item provides the report of the review and a recommendation regarding the stipulations and the accreditation status.

Staff Recommendation

Staff recommends that the stipulations be extended until after the NCATE re-visit scheduled for December 7-9, 2008.

Background Information

A COA/NCATE accreditation team conducted a visit at California State University, Monterey Bay on November 11-15, 2006. On the basis of the accreditation team report, the COA made the following accreditation decision for California State University, Monterey Bay and all of its credential programs: ACCREDITATION WITH TECHNICAL STIPULATIONS

Following are the stipulations:

- That the institution provide evidence that all Common Standards listed as “Met with Concerns” have been fully met. This includes:
 - Common Standard 2 about grievance procedures
 - Common Standards 3 about candidate use of technology and clinical faculty training and development
 - Common Standard 4 about candidate placements with students having exceptionalities
- That the institution provide evidence that all Program Standards listed as “Met with Concerns” have been fully met. This includes:
 - Program Standards 8A and 8B related to Pedagogical Preparation for Subject-Specific Content Instruction
 - Program Standard 14 related to Preparation to Teach Special Populations
 - Program Standard 16 related to Qualifications of Field Supervisors
 - Program Standard 18 related to Pedagogical Assignments and Formative Assessments

The institution was required to respond to the stipulations and prepare a report to Commission staff and the Team Leader during the 2007-2008 academic year providing evidence that all standards were now met.

Institutional Response

The institution submitted a document indicating how each of the stipulations have been addressed and what changes have been made in areas of the standards identified by the team as needing attention. Commission staff carefully read the document and supporting evidence. Considerable progress has been made in each the areas identified in the stipulations. However, some additional supporting evidence is still needed. Further, one of the stipulations concerned three of the Common/Unit Standards. Since there is an NCATE re-visit scheduled for December 7-9, 2008 to deal with the Common/Unit Standards, and since the state Team Leader and a Commission staff consultant will be present, staff recommends that the stipulations be continued until the re-visit. The results of the review and the recommendation were shared with the State Team Leader, and she concurs.
